CORN has taken quite an advance at Chicago, but is now on the decline. Wheat is firmer and looking up a little.

We had barely enough rain Monday morning to lay the dust, but Wednesday about 1 o'clock we had a good rain which will revive vegetation a good deal.

Mrs. Sarah Edlin died at her home near Hampton Station, Friday of last week. She was the wife of Mr. C. T. Edlin and the daughter of Mr. Ivory Johnson.

MR. E. T. BOGARD, who has recently purchased the Northington House, is having a considerable addition put up, which will give several more rooms to that popular house.

Caldwell & Shelton received a few days ago two fine iron-gray horses from Louisville. One is a splendid saddle horse and the other a first-class harness horse.

OLD DAN RICE lectured in Louisville Saturday night on "Evidences of the Human Mind, or the Fool Made Wise at Last." There is a good deal of humor in old Dan yet.

POLK G. JOHNSON, clerk and master of the Chancery Court, will sell Saturday, Sept. 27th, at the Court-House, the real estate advertised in the CHRONICLE. Parties wanting to buy should not fail to be on hand at the hour of sale.

THE entertainment of "Red Riding Hood" which was to have come off next Tuesday evening, at the Academy, has been changed to Thursday evening, October 2. It is hoped that a large audience will greet the little children. Tickets at Owen, Moore & Atkinson's, 25 cts.

THE Nashville Advocate says: "It will gratify many readers to learn that the Rev. Wm. Burr has so far regained his strength as to be able to resume pulpit work." He has a host of friends in the Clarksville District who will read this paragraph with pleasure.

We learn that a great deal of tobacco has been cut during the past two weeks; some of it was not entirely matured, and was firing so bad that it was thought best to cut it. There is still a good part of the crop standing, and hopes are entertained that the fall rains will benefit it.

A case was tried in the Circuit Court at Nashville a few days ago, where a firm was doing business and claimed $100.00 exemption. The taxes were paid under protest, and they brought suit for the exemption. Acting Circuit Judge Morrill "decided that firms, as well as individuals, are entitled to exemption."

A NEW and lively interest has recently been awakened in Pythianism in this city. A side degree known as "The Wise Men" is immensely popular and has given at least a dozen persons at the K. of P. lodge room last Tuesday night. Those who haven't been initiated ought to be at once. There can be no complete knowledge of lodge matters without it.

The Dayton Hedge Fence.

A party consisting of a number of gentlemen from this county and several from Stewart county, went up to Allensville, Ky., Saturday to inspect the hedge fence around the farm of Mr. W. B. Gill, in that vicinity. Among those who went from Clarksville and vicinity were Hon. John F. House, Judge J. W. Scales, Gen. W. A. Quarles, M. V. Ingram, Mr. Polk G. Johnson, Hon. Wm. M. Daniel, Judge C. W. Tyler, Hon. C. G. Smith, Mr. B. M. DeGraffenreid, Mr. Morris Hall and a number of other men. Dr. S. W. Dawson and A. V. Goodpasture, Esq., joined the party at Cherry's Station and Mr. Preston Johnson, at Hampton's. The following gentlemen from Stewart county were with the party: Esq. Robt. W. Steel, Mr. H. C. Thomas, Mr. T. W. Lewis, Jr., Capt. Gabe Russell and Mr. Thomas D. Tombs.

The fence that these gentlemen went out to see was that prepared by the Dayton Hedge Company. It is exhibited in all stages of growth on Mr. Gill's farm, and shows up to a remarkably fine advantage. On the same farm may be seen the old fashioned Oange orange hedge, and the superiority of the Dayton Company's plan is made evident by the striking contrast.

The country around Allensville is a very fine farming section, being level and remarkably fertile. Mr. Gill's tract of this character and well suited for showing up the hedge in all its perfection. A quarter of a mile or more of this fence skirts a field to the rear of his residence that is indeed a thing of beauty. It is perfectly straight, of a uniform height, and covers no more ground, in width, than a plank fence would. It is entirely impregnable to stock and hogs, and it seemed to the reporter, might considerably impede the progress of a hard pressed rabbit.

We can't enter into all the details of the manner in which the fence is constructed. In that regard we refer our readers to the agents. Mr. M. V. Ingram understands it very thoroughly and will be glad to explain it to any one desiring such information. To our way of thinking it will prove a God send to this time-worn and neglected people. The old rail fences must be abandoned and they can't be supplanted with anything superior to the Dayton fence.

We heard no other expression from the practical farmers who inspected the fence, but that of perfect satisfaction. They all agreed that it was a good thing and supplied one of the greatest needs of the country.

A pleasant feature of the day was a barbecue dinner with which Mr. Gill entertained his guests. It was beautiful, elegant, prepared and greatly enjoyed by the crowd. The occasion was most pleasantly spent, and the Tennesseans returned to their homes with very pleasant impressions of all they had seen and of all Allensville.

THE CHRONICLE has repeatedly urged the necessity of having Montgomery county represented at New Orleans. In our opinion, it is a great opportunity of extending our resources that we can't afford to miss. The more so because all of our neighbors are taking advantage of it. We are glad, therefore, to learn that the Montgomery County Farmers' Association is moving in that direction. A meeting will be held at the Court House Monday looking to collecting an exhibit, first to be shown here, and then sent to New Orleans. The farmers ask for the hearty cooperation of the Clarksville merchants and all others who will aid them in the enterprise. They hope to have a number of merchants and other citizens meet with them Monday.

OUR readers probably remember that some time last May a man named Adams, who was a pecker and a patent filting iron, hired a horse from Messrs. Caldwell and Shelton of this city which he took to Hopkinsville and sold to Messrs. Means & Weil of that city for $100. He was captured at Pembroke and carried back to Hopkinsville and put in jail. His trial came off last Friday and the jury gave him six years in the penitentiary. $80 of $100 he got for the horse was recovered. R. L. Moore marshal of Pembroke gets $20 reward which was offered for his arrest. We gather these facts from the South Kentuckian which further says that Adams was indifferent to his fate and laughed heartily several times during the trial at the remarks of witnesses.

A CHINESE man has opened a laundry in the old Democrat office, on First street, and thereby supplied a long felt want in Clarksville. His name is Yim Chong, and he is a true type of the almond-eyed Celestial. He read in the CHRONICLE some time since that we needed a laundry in Clarksville, and sailed at once from Hong Kong, where he then lived, to this country by way of British Columbia. We hope he will be liberally sustained. We are not liable to be "ruined by Chinese cheap labor" in this part of the country yet awhile.

We are informed that a deaf and dumb man by the name of Tobe Dority, was struck by the north-bound freight train near Palmyra Monday evening. The train was going around a sharp curve near the tunnel and was too near him to check up before it struck him. His collar bone was broken and he was otherwise considerably bruised, but it is thought he will soon recover. He lived in the Ninth district of this county. The train was stopped and he was taken up and carried to Palmyra and sent home from there.

SOME thirty or forty Knights of Pythias of this city will attend the drill, ball and banquet at Hopkinsville next Wednesday. This will be a great event in Hopkinsville's history, as the Grand Lodge of Kentucky will be in session, and the ball of Christian union in full blast at the same time. Hopkinsville will be taxed to its utmost to take care of them, but she is equal to the emergency and no doubt all who go will have a fine time.

I. A. & T. Railroad.

Major Gordon informs us that he has perfected arrangements by which he can push the railroad through to Princeton without further delay. The grading of the third ten miles will be begun next week. Rails for the second ten miles have been shipped and the ties are already piled along the line. About 85 cars and a new locomotive are on the road and may be expected here at any time. One hundred and forty cars and two locomotives, in all, have been purchased, more than enough to equip the road in good style.

Major Gordon has exhibited remarkable energy in this undertaking. Just at this time, work on railroads throughout the Union, is generally suspended. The financial crisis brought about by numerous bank failures, has retarded enterprise of this nature. It is very creditable to Major Gordon that he has kept up under the pressure and carried on with but little delay. This is in the face of the fact, too, that $40,000 or $50,000 on local subscriptions to bonds remain unpaid.

We are glad that the road will be speedily built and hope that the resumption of active operations will silence the carper, the pessimist and the individual afflicted with "general cussedness," who have been doing all they could to prevent such a desired consummation. The building of this railroad is important to the very life of Clarksville, and we hope her citizens will do all they can to aid in the enterprise.

Death of Capt. L. Eddings.

Died, at the residence of his son Levi S. Eddings, in Fulton, Ky., Sept. 19, 1884, Capt. L. Eddings, formerly of this city. He was born in Leesburg, Caswell co., North Carolina, Sept. 20, 1808. He was a consistent member of the Christian church; was baptized by the Rev. Tolbert Fanning in 1832, and with his few most respected friends, W. F. Fall, was at the organization of the church in this place in 1842.

The funeral services were conducted by W. F. Fall in the Christian church at Fulton, where he had many warm personal friends. His Christian example will long be remembered by the people of Clarksville and vicinity. Only a short time since a few relatives, the writer amongst the number, bade him farewell, and as he pressed my hand for the last time he knew full well the end would soon come. He was a faithful follower of the Master, and a beautiful home awaited him, for it is written "And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day; for there shall be no night there."

A Business Change.

Messrs. Ely & Kennedy of the Elephant Warehouse in this city have determined to close out their business and will dissolve partnership. Mr. Ely will be employed by the firm conducting the new Peoples warehouse, and Mr. Kennedy will probably engage in the tobacco brokerage business. He has not determined whether to remain here or go to Louisville but we hope he will come to the former conclusion. Mr. Ely is a man of exceptional fine business qualities and has had long experience in handling tobacco. He will be quite an acquisition to the new house.

The Elephant warehouse building has been rented by Messrs. Ely, Young & Co., who will use it as additional storage room for the Grange warehouse. It is now the property of Mr. D. N. Kennedy.

MR. LACY LOCKERT and Miss Naamie Smith were married in Chicago at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening. Both are well known young people of this city, where they have hosts of friends. The bride and her mother, Mrs. Lacy Smith, left Clarksville two weeks ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Rufus N. Rhodes, in Chicago. Mr. Lockert left for the same place some time subsequent. The news of their union was somewhat of a surprise to their friends here, but was received with much pleasure and they will be heartily congratulated on their return.

HARRY WEBBER, the well known comedian, opened the season at the Opera House Friday night with "Nip and Tuck." At Saturday's matinee he will play "Bossie's Burglar" and "Lancashire Lass." Saturday night "Brought to Book" will be presented. Mr. Webber is an actor of good talent. He visited Clarksville last season and delighted his audience. He is accompanied by a uniformed brass band which will give a street parade every day and act as orchestra during the performances.

It would be well for the merchants, manufacturers and residents of Clarksville to know that the City Directory of Clarksville that is now in active preparation by Adam Woodbridge has no connection whatever with any State Directories, Gazetteer or any outside mediums, but is an official Directory of Clarksville and Montgomery county, and the residents will be only won in person by Mr. Woodbridge for patronage, as he employs no agents for the purpose of soliciting advertisements here.

A college student handed us a note in regard to the runaway accident reported last week. It states (as near as we can divine its meaning) that the horses Mr. Cavitt was driving became unmanageable when their heads were turned towards home, and couldn't be checked in time to prevent the jolt that threw the occupants of the buggy out. We are glad to publish the explanation.

Mr. Frank S. Beaumont, of this city will leave in a few days for Pembroke, Ky., where he will buy tobacco during the coming season. He has had experience in the business and will no doubt make a successful buyer. We take pleasure in recommending him to the people of Pembroke and vicinity.

SEE the wicked Wolf in "Red Riding Hood" at the Academy Hall Thursday night, Oct. 2. Tickets at the Book-store, 25 cts.

Mr. Henry S. Wilson, son of our old friend, S. A. Wilson, Esq., of Palmyra, will leave this morning for Lexington, Va., to attend the law school of Washington and Lee University. Henry is one of the brightest of young men and we shall look for good reports from him.

Mr. Horace Yarbrough has accepted a situation with Mr. Simon Katz who has opened a new store in the Court-House block. Mr. Yarbrough will take place in waiting on all of his old friends whenever in want of anything in his line of business.

Franklin Review and Journal: Rev. John W. Hanner, Jr., returned on last Saturday from Clarksville, where he has been visiting his sister and his sick father. He reports the old gentleman much improved—able to sit up. On last Sunday morning he delivered in the Methodist church here a beautiful sermon on heavenly symbols, and returned to his home in Florida on Tuesday.

Mr. H. C. Weber left finally for Montgomery, Alabama, Friday morning, where he will engage in business as a druggist and practical analytic chemist. He is a young man of good attainments and well skilled in the work he intends to pursue. While superintendent of the public schools in this city he showed himself to be possessed of very superior traits of character and fine capabilities. He will carry with him the best wishes of the people of Clarksville.

HYMNICAL.

Married at McAdow church near Clarksville, Sept. 18th at 6 p. m. by Rev. G. J. Donnell, Mr. John Horsley and Miss Dixie Johns. The attendants were as follows:

Mr. John Brown and Miss Sue Ella Brown, Mr. John R. Smith and Miss Joseph Dixon, Mr. John Smith and Miss Joseph Dixon, Mr. John Smith and Miss Joseph Dixon.

Mr. Horsley and his lovely bride are known to an extended circle of friends who are sincere well-wishers to them in their new relation. Such a pleasant consummation of the desires of the happy pair had been suspected for some time by their friends, and when it became known that those expectations were not ungrounded, at the appointed time and place, a very large number assembled to witness the act that should make their lives one, and extend to them their hearty congratulations. The interest manifested by so many friends bespeak the well merited popularity of the young couple.

The bridal party repaired from the church to the residence of Mr. Chas. Horsley, father of the groom, where a number of relatives were invited to participate in the pleasures of the evening. No one could fail of enjoyment while being the guests of Mr. Horsley and his excellent lady. Under the efficient management of the Misses Horsley the evening was passed delightfully all present. Supper was announced at 8 o'clock, the bountiful repast of good things, too numerous to mention, was heartily enjoyed by all and reflected credit upon the culinary skill of somebody, as well as upon the genuine hospitality of the good host and hostess. The newly married couple will remain at Mr. Sam'l. Horsley's until they complete their new residence. May all their days be as cloudless and bright as the day upon which they embarked upon a matrimonial sea, and the sunset of one scene of joy point to the rosy fingered morn of another through their whole lives.

BE sure and remember "Red Riding Hood" at the Academy hall next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cts; tickets at Owen, Moore & Atkinson's.

New Advertisements.

Mr. Simon Katz, the new merchant, has some special in this issue. Counter Bro. have a column advertisement on the front page that will reward your careful perusal. Don't fail to read it and go and examine their new goods.

R. S. Broadbent informs the public in this issue of the CHRONICLE that he has a stock of fall and winter goods is now open. He has a great display of all kinds of ladies' dress goods, hosiery, etc. that he will be glad to show his lady customers. His stock of clothing, boots and shoes is complete, and he sells everything at the lowest prices. Read the advertisement and give him a call.

One of the most important enterprises recently set on foot in Clarksville, and one that substantially marks the progress of our city, is the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, which it awaits the completion of the new building now being erected for its special use on the corner of Second and Franklin streets. The bank is well equipped and equipped for business. Judge H. H. Lorton, President, Mr. Jas. H. Smith, Vice President and Mr. J. W. Paxon, Cashier, are each as good men as could be found for their respective positions. Accounts of merchants, farmers and individuals are now solicited. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

OUR EXPOSITION.

To the Chronicle: The Farmers Association propose to hold their second Seed Show in Clarksville on the 1st or 2nd week in December, 1884. It is proposed to make this, not only an agricultural and horticultural show, but also an exhibit of new textile fabrics, mechanical goods, ladies' work, fine arts, &c. Indeed the idea is to make it a Miniature Exposition, and to allow it to continue, if properly appreciated, from three to five days. It is further proposed to give premiums for the best exhibited of all articles to be hereafter named upon printed catalogues. Many of these premiums, I have no doubt, will be voluntarily contributed by private parties, whilst others will be supplied with money received for admission fees, which will probably be fixed at about 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Though our Association is exclusively a farmers' organization, we would gladly extend the benefits of this enterprise to all persons of every trade or vocation, within the city and the surrounding counties of both Tennessee and Kentucky, who will unite with us in getting up a display that will do credit to our section of country.

Of the benefits of such an enterprise I feel that it is unnecessary to speak, as they may be plainly seen by all intelligent persons. After the close of our exhibit, we then propose to send a part of our agricultural exhibit and other articles that exhibitors may desire to the New Orleans Exposition, in order that the resources of our section may be shown to the millions who will visit that great World's Fair during its six months duration.

In connection with our exhibit at the Court-House, we also propose to have a "flat stock show" during the same week at the most convenient point that can be obtained for quartering stock, which will also be of interest to many persons. I have merely given an outline sketch of what is proposed, in order that others interested may take the matter into consideration, and be prepared to lend it such encouragement as may be deemed best. Our Executive Committee will meet at the Court-House in Clarksville on Monday, Sept. 29th, for the purpose of considering the matter named, and we would be glad to have present such others as may feel interested. Yours truly, G. H. S.

September 22, 1884.

Col. Tom W. Neal, of the Lynchburg Gazette, has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for florator from the counties of Dyer, Lake and Obion. He is a member of the legislature before and made a first-class representative. We will venture to prophesy that he will duplicate that record. Hon. J. H. McDowell has been re-nominated as representative from Obion.

Little Louis Rosenfield, the son of Mr. Wm. Rosenfield of this city, was accidentally struck by a bat while a game of base ball was in progress at the city last Tuesday. The lick was so severe as to render him insensible at the time, but medical attention and good treatment soon restored him and he is now nearly recovered from the effects of the blow.

A large St. Bernard dog, the property of Judge J. W. Scales, went off some time since and bit two of his registered Jersey cows. The wound on one of the cows was thoroughly cauterized, but the other went unattended to because the laceration was too small to be found. The cow that was not cauterized developed decided symptoms of hydrophobia last week and had to be shot.

Children, save your quarters and see "Little Red Riding Hood" Thursday night at 8 o'clock. She comes with her little basket and "pat of butter for grandma," and looks just too cute, in the red cloak and hood.
